Welcome

From the Vice-Chancellor

Welcome to the University of Sydney, the university that prides itself on offering students choice – choice across faculties, choice within faculties and the option to choose from over 1000 challenging and professionally relevant degree programs recognised across the world.

The University of Sydney offers a rich mix of specialist, generalist and combined degrees with the further option to specialise or pursue research at the postgraduate level. Students are able to pursue a general education in the liberal arts or sciences, choose specialised training in areas such as engineering, medicine, health or law, or do both through a range of tailored combined degree programs.

The University of Sydney is an exciting learning environment and encourages innovation and creativity that goes beyond the classroom. With over 200 clubs and societies and the largest and oldest university student union in Australia, the University facilitates student engagement in a wide range of sporting, social and cultural activities, where personal and professional relationships are formed that last a lifetime. With student exchange opportunities in over 100 global partner institutions, programs for performers and athletes of all levels of ability, and special pathways for talented students, the University of Sydney offers students from all backgrounds an opportunity to become a well-rounded graduate ready for the most challenging professions.

Please join us for Sydney Uni Live on Saturday 29 August, for a taste of the complete university experience. I look forward to seeing you there.

Dr Michael Spence

STEP 2

Take in a lecture, or three

Mini-lectures run throughout the day, covering every facet of the University. Choose the ones that interest you (see pages 4 to 7) and put them in your plan for the day.

STEP 3

Send your parents to a seminar

If your parents/guardians come with you to Sydney Uni Live, they might want to catch the Parents' Seminar at 10.30am in the Old Geology Lecture Theatre, Edgeworth David Building.

See the sights

Tours of the campus, faculty buildings, museums and residential colleges run regularly throughout the day – find the ones that interest you on page 10. But don't miss all the other demonstrations on offer (see pages 2 to 3).

Soak up the atmosphere

The University of Sydney Union will be providing food, music and entertainment in the Quadrangle. Relax, hang out with friends (or make new friends) on the lawns and enjoy!

STEP 6

Sort out your options

If you're planning to move out of home when you start studying, the stalls in the Quadrangle have students who can answer your questions and tell you about their experiences.

Need help on the day?

Keep your eye out for students wearing blue 'No Limits' T-shirts – they can give you directions and assistance. Information booths are located at Railway Square (by Central station), the Quadrangle, Fisher Library, Science Road, Manning Road and Eastern Avenue.
